What is CLSS?

CourseLeaf Section Scheduler (CLSS) streamlines how colleges and universities determine their class offerings each term - everything from inputting, editing, validating, approving, and updating the course offerings.

CLSS Terminology:

- Section – scheduling item, particular time, place, instructor of a course.
- Instance – the term being scheduled (Spring 2023, Fall 2023, Summer 2023).
- Scheduling Unit – group of courses scheduled together, usually department.
- Phases – periods of time describe authority to make changes. Some items on the form are available or not during different phases.
 - i) Plan – departments enter course sections into CLSS.
 - ii) Room assignments – no changes to the schedule allowed while the URO assigns classrooms.
 - iii) Publish – schedule is made visible to the students in Genie and Schedule Hero.
 - iv) Registration – changes to sections will go into workflow for review by the URO.
 - v) Post-registration – changes to sections will go into workflow for review by the URO.
 - vi) Archive – term is closed; no changes allowed.
- Modes – How CLSS processes requests.
 - i) Design mode – sections entered into CLSS are not available in Banner immediately. The schedule will be submitted by the Registrar's Office as a whole into Banner once approved.
 - ii) Refine mode – Courses appear in Banner and any changes to sections in CLSS will be submitted through a workflow to be reviewed by the Registrar's Office.

Logging into CLSS

- Go to: <https://nextcatalog.uncg.edu/wen> and log in.
- Choose Instances from the menu.
- Choose appropriate term (current or future) to create or adjust schedule.

Parts of Term:

Choose the appropriate dates from the drop-down list in CLSS. The Part of Term calendar (POT) can be found on the Registrar's website: <https://reg.uncg.edu/calendars/#pot>

Winter Term Sections with POT W:

Winter term courses are built in the spring term. To differentiate winter term courses from full term courses, the section number will begin with WR and include a number for the section (ex: WR1, WR2, WR3, etc.). The part of term (POT) will be W.

Campus Codes:

At UNCG, the campus code will define where the program and section are delivered and/or how the student is associated with the program:

O	Online
S	Site Off-Campus – Approved sites off campus. S-Campus should also be used for off-campus locations when < 25% of program's total credit hours are offered at the site. If the intent is to exceed the 25% threshold, you must first complete the "Substantive Change Checklist" (Substantive-Change-Checklist.pdf (uncg.edu)) for SACSCOC notification or approval.
R	Gateway University Research Park (Nanoscience only)

If you are choosing O campus for fully online instruction, the course should be approved for online delivery first and indicated by the ONLC attribute listed under Course Attributes. If the ONLC is not listed, the course cannot be set up with O campus. Please submit the appropriate request via CIM. Once a course is approved and the ONLC attribute added, the course can be taught online indefinitely.

Instructional Methods:

- Choose the instructional method appropriate for the campus from the drop-down list.

Schedule Types:

Only one schedule/course type is available for a course. If a schedule type change is required, you will need to request a change for the following academic year via CIM. <http://curriculumguide.uncg.edu/>

Organized Class Course (OC): A course that is provided principally by means of regularly scheduled classes meeting in classrooms or similar facilities at stated times.

Individual Instruction Course (IS): A course in which instruction is not conducted in regularly scheduled class meetings; includes "readings" or "special topics" courses, "problems" or "research" courses, including dissertation/thesis research, and "individual lesson" courses (typically in music and fine arts).

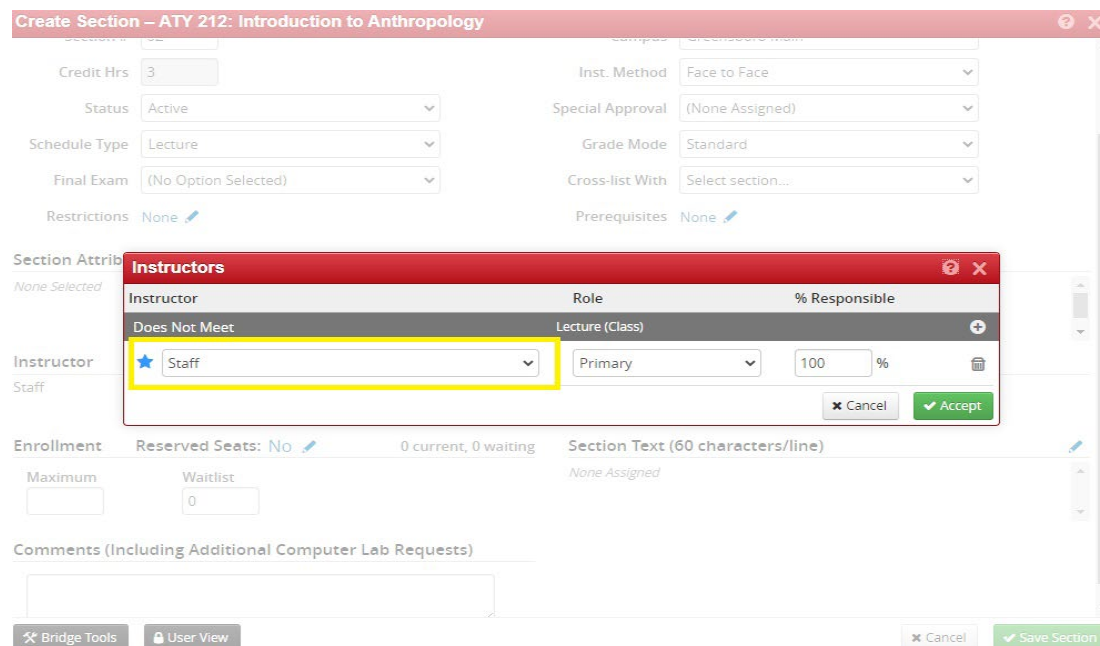

UNCG adheres to the UNC System Office policy which defines schedule types as follows:
<https://www.northcarolina.edu/apps/policy/index.php?section=400.3.4%5BR%5D>

Instructors:

- The default for the instructor field is “staff.” If you do not know who the instructor is or the instructor is not through the credentialing process and active in Banner (please contact either Faculty Services Personnel for faculty or the Graduate School for GA/TA) at the time the section is created, leave as “staff.” Instructors for the department are pre-loaded in CLSS.
- Choose the designated instructor from the drop-down list by clicking the pencil icon.
- Click Accept.

If the instructor is not listed in the drop down:

- Click the pencil icon
- Choose Other
- Enter instructor's name (Last, First)

If adding more than one instructor, adjust the percent of responsibility for each so that the sum is 100%. Percent of Responsibility should accurately reflect each instructor's assigned responsibility for the course. This overall percentage must equal 100% however divided.

- Percent of responsibility is tied to faculty workload.
- From a liability perspective, faculty listed in the course must accurately reflect the instructor in the classroom.
- Faculty information is expected to be complete and correct in the system of record by the tenth (10th) day of instruction (census reporting deadline) in each regular semester. Faculty changes after census reporting must be entered into the system of record, then notice must be provided to Institutional Research so updates can be made to the census file. Census file data is used by the UNC Systems Office for reporting and must match the local system of record.

Adding more than one instructor:

- Click the plus button and choose the instructor.
- Click Accept.

If you choose a General-Purpose Classroom, the University Registrar's Office will utilize the Ad Astra Information Systems software to schedule classroom assignments based on maximum course enrollment. Factors included in the room optimization process are classroom capacity, back-to-back instructor assignments, and optimum campus location/region.

Meeting Patterns:

Standard meeting patterns are pre-loaded for convenience in CLSS. You are able to create non-standard meeting patterns if needed. Things to keep in mind when entering meeting patterns,

- Follow the standard meeting patterns/hours listed below as much as possible
- Misaligned meeting patterns impact the students' ability to meet course requirements/progression due to overlapping schedules; create space utilization gaps, which is significant as GA monitors space utilization; funding for future buildings/renovations are tied to the university's utilization metrics associated with existing resources; create issues with exam scheduling
- Data/reporting integrity – Student DataMart requires this information for certain schedule types (LEC, SEM, LEL, DSC, LAB).

Standard Hours apply to three and four credit hour courses offered during the fall and spring semesters.

Multiple Meeting Patterns, such as hybrids, are set up by defining the first meeting pattern and then utilizing the Meetings tab at the bottom of the page to add a second or third separate meeting pattern.

If you are utilizing the HYBR instructional method to alternate face-to-face meetings and online instruction, per SACSCOC, the online portion of a hybrid section cannot be greater than 49% of the course. If it is 50% or more, it is an online course and requires online delivery approval process via CIM to obtain the ONLC attribute.

Adding second meeting pattern:

- Patterns at the top of snapper page
- Choose User Defined
- Add first meeting pattern

The screenshot displays the 'Patterns' dropdown menu in the LEC interface. The menu is open, showing four options: 'MP- 2x week 75min MW (3-4credit)', 'MP- 2x week 75min TR (3-4credit)', 'MP- 3x week 50min MWF (3-4credit)', and 'User Defined' (which is selected with a checkmark). Below the menu, there is a text input field containing 'M 8-8-50' and a green 'Add' button. The background of the interface shows a calendar grid for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, with time slots ranging from 8am to 7pm. At the bottom, the 'Meetings' tab is selected, and there are 'Cancel' and 'Accept' buttons.

- Delete offering using the X by the section. (Note: if students are registered for the section, contact the University Registrar's Office)

- Delete all offerings using the red X by course name. Caution: This will delete ALL sections of that course listed.

Cancelling a Section:

If a course needs to be cancelled after registration has begun, please contact the courses team in the Registrar's Office (courses@uncg.edu).

Course and Section Attributes

Course attributes pull directly from the catalog and are not adjustable by the departments and cannot be adjusted via CLSS scheduling.

Some section attributes can be adjusted by the departments, such as WI/SI (if they are approved), 374 liability insurance required, 125 modified language courses.

Departments can add program attributes such as WGS, ENT, IGS, to alert students which courses will fulfill requirements in their program.

Extra Fees Notices - Any online course section that requires proctoring must carry the attribute 376 to notify students that an extra fee will apply. This notice is required by SACSCOC. This attribute should ONLY be applied in this circumstance.

You may also need to add an attribute indicating an extra fee associated with a course/section, such as liability insurance (374), mandatory trip fee (377). If such an attribute is needed for your section, add the appropriate code in the same manner as you would add a WI or SI and save. If your course requires an extra fee, this must be indicated at the time of registration.

If any attribute is missing from the list, please contact courses@uncg.edu.

Section Restrictions for Online Course Sections:

Departments can restrict online course sections for students in their online programs only. Once the restriction is placed on a section, only students in the online program may register for the online course. This restriction must be requested prior to the schedule input deadline (<https://reg.uncg.edu/course-scheduling/>). Requests should be sent to courses@uncg.edu.

Reserved Seats

NOTE: RESERVED SEATING IS NOT TO BE USED FOR CROSS LISTING A COURSE

Definition: Reserved seating functionality can be used to allocate seats for certain populations. Seats can be reserved based on major, concentration, school, degree, level, department, and cohort, as well as fewer common identifiers.

Reserved Seating Versus Course Restriction:

Reserved Seating only reserves a portion of a course section and is managed within the department whereas course restriction affects the entire course and requires prior approval by either the UCC and/or GSC.

Departments have the option to reserve part of an online section for online program students through the Reserve Seating mechanism. This would allow for students outside the online program to register for the course. Sections cannot be restricted, or seats reserved above 50% of the total number of seats, for other populations (i.e., majors) unless approved by the appropriate Curriculum Committee.

Guidelines for Use:

- Reserved Seating cannot be used as a course restriction or in lieu of a course restriction.
- Only 50% or less of the total seats in a section may be reserved for a special population (i.e., If the section seat max = 100 then only 50 Seats may be reserved)
- Reserved Seating may not be applied to courses that carry General Education Category Designations. General Education Council guidelines state that all courses that carry general education category designations must be open to all undergraduate students regardless of major.
- Reserved Seating may not be applied to MAC courses.
- Reserved Seating may not contradict or supersede restrictions already approved by the appropriate curriculum committee (i.e., If KIN 356 is restricted to KIN majors, then a subset of seats cannot be reserved for CST majors).

Setting Up Reserved Seats:

- Click pencil next to reserved seats to add or adjust seats

- Click green plus to add a reserved seat group
- Choose group from the drop-down list

- Enter maximum for reserved seats in that group

Reserved seats criteria will subtract automatically from the unreserved seats number. The total maximum enrollment entered will adjust automatically.

- Enter waitlist for reserved group (if needed)

The screenshot shows the 'Reserved Seats' window with the following details:

Allow in unreserved is a yes/no option (default is yes): Are the reserved seat group also allowed to be in the unreserved group too?

If you choose yes, when the reserved seat maximum fills, any others that fit that reserved seat criteria can register in the unreserved seats pool.

If you choose no, when the reserved seat maximum fills, any students that fit the reserved seat criteria will not be able to register under the unreserved group.

This screenshot shows the 'Allow in Unreserved' dropdown menu open, with 'Yes' selected. The window details are the same as the previous screenshot.

Buttons: Cancel, Accept

- To add more than one reserved seat group, click the green plus icon for a second row.

If you have sections with reserved seats that are no longer needed, click the trashcan icon to delete, if there is no existing registration under that criteria. If there is registration present under that reserved seat criteria, it will not be deleted. You can adjust the reserved seat maximum number in CLSS to move the extra seats to the unreserved maximum number.

Cross-Listed Sections

Departments are now responsible for their cross-listings. These links must be in place before the Registrar's Office runs the classroom assignment process. If courses are cross-listed after the initial classroom assignment process, the cross-list request will be reviewed by the course scheduling team in the Registrar's Office. Please refer to the Cross-Listing Policy for more information.

<https://reg.uncg.edu/course-scheduling/>

In CLSS, there is one controlling section ("parent") and one or more controlled sections ("child"). The section initiating the cross-list or link will be the "child" section – the child chooses the parent. When the parent/controlling section is changed, the controlled sections are automatically changed to match. This includes meeting pattern, instructor, and location. Any changes to the total maximum enrollment number will reflect in both the parent and child sections automatically.

The Registrar's Office may recommend changes in these course titles if the proper naming convention is not used.

After the department validates their schedule in CLSS, the Registrar's Office Course Scheduling Team will review the schedule in workflow and then bridge it to Banner; the schedule will be moved into Refine Mode in CLSS. During Refine Mode, departmental schedulers are able to adjust existing course sections and build new course sections as needed (do not email these requests). These requests will go into a workflow to be reviewed by the Registrar's Office Course Scheduling Team. You can view the workflow status in CLSS by opening the section and checking the Workflow Status button at the bottom.
