at GREENSBORO

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro was established by legislative enactment on February 18, 1891 and opened its doors on October 5, 1892.

The institution came into being as a direct result of the efforts of Dr. Charles Duncan McIver on behalf of the education of women. To Dr. McIver, more than any other individual, the university owes its foundation. He became its first president and served until his death in 1906.

Since its founding, the institution's name has been changed several times: 1891–1919—State Normal and Industrial College; 1919–1932—North Carolina College for Women; 1932–1963—the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. In the 1963 General Assembly the name was changed to the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and by the same Act the institution became co-educational. In the fall of 1964 the first class of male students was admitted. In 1972 the General Assembly in special session merged all State supported institutions of higher education into the University of North Carolina without changing the names of each campus. Thus, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro is a member of the 17-campus university.

From a student body of 223 and a faculty of 15 in 1892, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro has grown to a student body of 19,393 resident students—18% of whom are graduate students—and a total faculty of 1,005. UNCG Online: The Division of Online Learning has grown to an enrollment in academic credit courses of 2,249.

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro includes the following academic units: College of Arts and Sciences, Joseph M. Bryan School of Business and Economics, School of Education, School of Health and Human Sciences, Lloyd International Honors College, Joint School of Nanoscience and Nanoengineering, School of Nursing, and College of Visual and Performing Arts. The university offers six bachelor's degrees in over 100 fields, master's degrees in a wide variety of concentrations, and doctoral degrees in 30 areas of study.

THE PROCESSIONAL

The procession is led by the Faculty Marshal and Mace Bearer and the academic banner bearers. The Co-assistant Chief Marshals enter next, leading the platform party, which includes the Chancellor; representatives of the Board of Trustees, the Alumni Association, and The University of North Carolina; the honorary degree recipients; the commencement address speaker; the officers of the university; the bell ringers; the class speaker; the tassel turner, and the Chief Marshal. Graduating candidates enter next, followed by the faculty.

THE MACE

The Mace is a ceremonial insignia of the university in a tradition that dates back to antiquity. Hand-chased in sterling silver, it bears academic motifs depicting the history of the institution and is carried by the Faculty Marshal on official occasions. The Mace of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro was presented by the Class of 1926 to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of its graduation and the bicentennial of the nation. It was first carried at Commencement in 1978.

THE FACULTY MARSHAL

The Faculty Senate of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro adopted on November 3, 1999 a policy for appointing the Faculty Marshal. The Chancellor appoints the Faculty Marshal from among three nominees recommended by the Faculty Senate leadership (Chair, Chair-Elect, Secretary). The Faculty Marshal is a respected senior member of the faculty who has a consistent and continuous record of excellent teaching, scholarly achievements, and service to the university. Years in rank as Professor and years of employment at UNCG are considered. The term of appointment for a Faculty Marshal is five years. Duties include leading the academic procession during university ceremonies, carrying the university Mace, and membership in the Commencement Committee, which plans Commencement.

THE CHAIN-OF-OFFICE

The Chain-of-Office is worn by the Chancellor of the university on occasions when the Mace is carried. The ceremonial medallion, hand-chased in sterling silver, bears the seal of the university, and indicates that the Chancellor is the temporary embodiment of the authority vested in the institution. The Chain-of-Office of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro was presented by the Class of 1929 on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of its graduation and was worn by the Chancellor for the first time at the 1979 Commencement.

The Class of 1940 chose to complete the original design of the Chain-of-Office on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of its graduation. Each link of the sterling silver neck chain is an individually cast laurel leaf. The medallion clasp, also in sterling silver, bears the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina. The completed Chain-of-Office was worn by the Chancellor for the first time at the 1990 Commencement.

THE UNIVERSITY FLAG

The University Flag made its debut on campus in the academic processional for Patricia A. Sullivan's installation as Chancellor of the university on October 2, 1995. The flag bears the traditional colors of gold and white, which were first used in the commencement ceremony of 1894, as well as navy, which was added as the third color in 1987. The University Seal, depicting the likeness of Minerva, appears on both sides of the flag. The UNCG Board of Trustees approved the design as the official flag of the institution on September 7, 1995.

THE ACADEMIC BANNERS

The Academic Banners represent the constituent parts of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro: the Graduate School, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the six professional schools—the Joseph M. Bryan School of Business and Economics, the School of Education, the School of Health and Human Sciences, the Joint School of Nanoscience and Nanoengineering, the School of Nursing, and the College of Visual and Performing Arts. The designs are unique to this university; the colors have historical association with the respective academic disciplines. The banners are a memorial to Marguerite Norman Felton, teacher of chemistry at the university from 1956 to 1979.

Over the years, several generations of college and school banners have existed. The current banners were recently redesigned and made their Commencement debut at the May 2010 ceremony.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY BELL

Following the benediction, the University Bell will ring in honor of the Graduates. The University Bell sounded the opening of the State Normal and Industrial College (now UNCG) on October 5, 1892. For forty years—until electric bells were installed—it marked the significant moments of the day. The University Bell hung from a belfry in the Anniversary Plaza from 1967 until 1987 when it was removed for the purpose of restoration. The Class of 1940, in celebration of the 50th anniversary of its graduation, commissioned the restoration of the University Bell.

UNIVERSITY MARSHALS

The Banner Bearers and escorts for all lines of march during Commencement are provided by the University Marshals, an academic honorary organization composed of full-time undergraduate students with academic averages of 3.65 or greater. These students may be recognized by the gold sashes that they wear during the ceremonies.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic costumes seem to have originated at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge over 650 years ago. The colors of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro are gold, white, and blue, with gold and white used in the hood.

“THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER”

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light, What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming? Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight, O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming?	And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air, Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there. O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?
---	--

THE UNIVERSITY SONG

The Alma Mater

We raise our voices, let them swell
In a chorus loud and strong;
The rolling hills send back the sound
Of our triumphant song.
For in one great unbroken band
With loyal hearts and true,
Your sons and daughters stand and sing
University, to you.

HONORARY DEGREES

WILLIAM MANGUM JR.

DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

William Mangum—artist, entrepreneur and philanthropist—the dedicated use of your talent as a platform to serve others is an inspiration to today’s graduates and to countless others in your community and across the state. A native North Carolinian, you earned an Associate in Arts degree from Sandhills Community College, and a BFA in Art Education and an MFA in Studio Arts from UNCG. You and your wife, Cynthia, have lived in Greensboro for four decades and raised three children here. In 1982, you opened Carey-Mangum Gallery, now William Mangum Fine Art, which has been a Greensboro institution for more than 35 years.

As a highly respected and collected artist, you have created and sold more than 3,000 original works and self-published more than 500 paintings as limited edition prints. You have published numerous art books, including Carolina Preserves, a collection of 130 original paintings with essays from 48 notable North Carolinians who share a common love for their home state. A winner of numerous national awards, you have appeared in magazines and on television. Your prodigious talent and hard work have created a successful business that inspires art students to embrace entrepreneurship as a viable means to flourish in the art world.

You are also proof that art can be a powerful voice for social awareness. Your philanthropic efforts have raised millions of dollars for non-profit agencies throughout the United States. You have created artwork to directly aid various local causes, including Greensboro Urban Ministry, Hospice, United Way, and the Greensboro Mental Health Society. Launched in 1988, your annual holiday Honor Card Program directly benefits organizations that aid the homeless and indigent across North Carolina. Fourteen cities now participate in this program, which has raised nearly 7 million dollars in its years of existence.

At UNCG, you have given generously of your time and personal resources. A tribute to family and friends who have supported your career, the William Mangum Artistic Merit Award provides financial assistance for senior fine arts majors in painting. Your commitment to your alma mater is also demonstrated through many in-kind gifts and participation in the annual Entrepreneurship Day, the Southern Entrepreneurship in the Arts conference and on the UNCG Excellence Foundation’s Board of Directors. In 2012 you were the inaugural recipient of the Alumni Excellence Award, the highest award given by UNCG’s Alumni Association.

Other honors include the Order of the Long Leaf Pine, the American Diabetes Association’s Father of the Year, lifetime membership in the North Carolina Society, the Lifetime of Service Award from the Volunteer Center of Greensboro, and the NC Interagency Council’s Outstanding Community Impact Award for Service to Homelessness.

You are known as “a man who is not only willing to give of his resources, but also rolls up his sleeves and shares of his time and leadership.” In recognition of your exceptional service to UNCG, your community and your home state, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro bestows upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

MANSUKH C. WANI

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Mansukh Wani, your extraordinary work in synthetic organic and natural products chemistries has produced seminal discoveries for the treatment of cancer and saved the lives of millions of people worldwide. You received your bachelor's degree in chemistry and master's degree in organic chemistry from the University of Bombay. In 1958, you came to the United States and obtained your PhD in chemistry from Indiana University at Bloomington, followed by a postdoctoral fellowship at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. You joined the Research Triangle Institute (RTI) in North Carolina in 1962, where you now hold the position of Principal Scientist Emeritus.

During your prolific career at RTI, you and your colleague, the late Dr. Monroe E. Wall, were credited with the discovery of camptothecin and taxol, both compounds that have led to better chances of survival for people undergoing cancer treatment. Your persistence was instrumental in the initial isolation and structure elucidation of these complex natural products in the 1960s, which resulted in the development of prescription drugs used for the treatment of colon, ovarian, breast and lung cancers and Kaposi's sarcoma. By 2002, these life-saving pharmaceuticals together accounted for one-third of the global market in anti-cancer agents.

As an inventor, you never profited from your discoveries, but the heartfelt letters of thanks from survivors and their families have been a testament to the importance of your work. Your discovery of taxol has saved the lives of millions of women around the world, particularly those with breast or ovarian cancers. UNCG has a notable history as a women's college, and generations of our alumnae have likely been treated by that compound, never knowing you discovered it just about 70 miles east in the heart of North Carolina's Research Triangle.

You have also published extensively and are a renowned speaker at national and international symposia. Your many awards include the Bruce F. Cain Memorial Award given by the American Association for Cancer Research, the City of Medicine Award given by the Greater Durham Chamber of Commerce, the NCI Award of Recognition, the Charles F. Kettering Prize of the General Motors Cancer Research Foundation, and induction into the Medicinal Chemistry Hall of Fame. In 2003, Indiana University bestowed on you its Distinguished Alumni Award, and in 2005, you received the North Carolina Award in Science from the Governor.

To the UNCG Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, you are nothing short of a hero. You have visited UNCG dozens of times to collaborate, mentor and advise, but most of all, you serve those you meet as a shining example of perseverance, challenges met and pride taken in one's work. In recognition of your outstanding contributions, the University of North Carolina at Greensboro confers upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Science.

RECOGNITIONS AND HONORS

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

Graduation with honors for undergraduates is based on all courses (including the last semester's work) for which grades and grade points are given. The honors shown in the commencement program for May undergraduates, however, are based on work taken through Fall 2016. Since spring semester grades had not been reported at the time this program was printed, some modifications in the tentative honors shown will have to be made following the recording of the spring semester 2017 grades. To be eligible for honors at the end of the senior year, a student must have completed at least 45 hours of work in residence at UNCG, not including hours for which credit and grade points have been received by special examinations.

Honors are awarded to graduating seniors as follows. The highest level is summa cum laude (with highest honor), maintaining a grade point average between 3.90–4.00 for all work taken at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. The next level, magna cum laude (with great honor), indicates an average of 3.70–3.89. The third level, cum laude (with honor), represents an achievement of 3.50–3.69.
